ASM Compliance

“ We have the wide-ranging experience, the technical know how and the regulatory understanding to ensure that your projects and asbestos management issues are dealt with cost-effectively, safely and in accordance with all current legislation; no matter the building type or project scale. ”

Expertise

ASM has an enviable track record of providing asbestos services to a broad range of clients and industries.

The array of asbestos services we provide includes Project Management, Asbestos Management, Asbestos Surveys and Training. In addition we can provide advice on any asbestos issues you may have.

ASM Compliance has developed a partnering approach which applies to all projects we undertake, beginning with an initial consultation with our experienced project managers to ensure that the service provided is tailored to your exact requirements. Once implemented, all projects are followed up with on-going client support.

ASM Compliance is a UKAS accredited inspection body.

Inspection No. 4418

Surveys

ASM Compliance has provided asbestos surveys in a variety of environments, including heavy industrial premises and petrochemical sites, as well as public buildings, commercial and residential premises.

Our survey staff have unparalleled experience in carrying out surveys in all these sectors. We commission regular audits and inspections to ensure consistent quality.

ASM Compliance is UKAS accredited for carrying out the following surveys, in all sectors:

- ◆ Management Surveys
- ◆ Refurbishment Surveys
- ◆ Demolition Surveys

The results of the surveys are presented in a bound full colour report, in an easy-to-read format, incorporating photographs and full colour indexed plans.

Survey results can be supplied electronically and for management surveys inputted into a database or management system of your choosing.

Demolition/Refurbishment

Refurbishment and demolition projects are challenging environments and if asbestos is not planned for effectively it can have costly implications - both in terms of your project costs and enforcement actions against you.

ASM Compliance has a vast knowledge base to draw on when dealing with these projects, having undertaken demolition surveys on a number of major industrial sites including: several petro-chemical works; many large scale refurbishment surveys in the health and education sectors; and numerous other smaller scale projects.

Our experience in the demolition/refurbishment sector has given us the understanding that the pre-planning and post survey support stages are every bit as important as the survey itself. Thorough pre-planning can increase the effectiveness of the survey and our experience allows us to identify and solve many potential pitfalls early in the project. We find that our partnership approach, with on-going support beyond the initial survey, pays dividends for our clients.

Supporting Services

Asbestos Management

ASM works in partnership with you to create a bespoke approach to asbestos management. The partnership continues with on-going advice and consultancy to support and maintain the system throughout the life of your portfolio.

Project Management

ASM simplifies any asbestos issues within any scale of project. Services include sourcing and vetting competent contractors, developing scopes of works, advising on techniques as well as on-site audits and inspections during the works to ensure contractors are performing to your expectations.

Training

ASM maintains UKATA (UK Asbestos Training Association) accreditation for our asbestos awareness training courses and offers targeted courses for specialist sectors, highlighting the asbestos risks unique to their industry e.g. operatives and managers in the demolition/refurbishment sector.
